STAYING CONNECTED in Your Marriage

By Al Francis Lacki

ISBN 0-964142872. Paperback. 376 pp. February 2000. Uplift Enterprises. $14.00.

Your relationship is a dynamic and living entity. It requires much of what you want and need for yourself—effective management, frequent nurturing, and tender loving care. This book invites you to grow personally and together and to do it daily. Consider the possible benefits that could occur as a result of your efforts.

Some Benefits From "Staying Connected":

- Experience Effective Communication;
- Empower your marriage relationship;
- Feel more connected with each other;

- Learn more about each other;
- Feel accepted and respected;
- More resolution of conflict;
- Feel good about yourself;
- Connect with yourself;
- Learn more about yourself;
- Quiet time alone;
- Feel validated;
- Feel more loved;
- Feel listened to.

About the Author: Al Francis Lacki is a marriage and family therapist. He believes we can have the marriage we really want. It will happen because we make it so. This occurs one day at a time. When we commit ourselves to growing daily with personal reflection and sharing with our partners, something marvelous happens.

"Almost every self-help book published offers the author's wisdom to the reader and sometimes includes some interactive tests and exercises. This is a book of reflections that prompts the couple to associate their own ideas to aphorisms and wise sayings, the kind that amaze you with their simplicity and penetrating wisdom. These reflections have a spiritual valence, but they are non-denominational Discussing one's interpretations and assigned meanings of the reflections is guaranteed to foster more self-awareness, and the sharing of thoughts, ideas, feelings and plans. One of the central values of Lacki's approach is that it stimulates intimate dialogue. People that have been together for years make assumptions that they know what is in the other's mind. Actually, there is more that we are unconscious of than we are aware of. Reflections allow us to elaborate and discover thoughts and feelings that are substantial contributions to our relationships. Staying Connected can be a valuable asset for the individual, the couple, and the therapist who wants to approach the spiritual dimensions of life. - Norman S. Goldner, Ph.D.

THE PARTHENON CODE MANKIND'S HISTORY IN MARBLE

By Robert Bowie Johnson, Jr.

ISBN 0970543832. 7 x 10 Hardback. 251 B&W Illustrations. 288 pp. June 2004. Solving Light Books. $29.95.

The Parthenon Code reveals, for the first time in 2,000 years, the meaning of the seven sculptural themes on Athena's temple. A simple but hidden artists' code, expressed on vase-paintings and the Parthenon sculptures, leads to the astonishing truth that Greek myth/art chronicles in great detail the reestablishment of the way of Kain (Cain) after the Flood. The events of Eden were part of the Greeks' collective cultural memory, and their special interpretation of those events made up the very basis of their religious system. Greek myth/art is human history. The Book of Genesis is human history. While the viewpoints of each are opposite, the recounted events match each other in convincing detail.

The Greeks knew exactly who Noah was. They called him Nereus, the "Wet One." While it is true that the Greeks built the Parthenon to glorify the serpent-worshipping Eve of Genesis, it is also true that they built it to celebrate their "victory" over Noah and his God.

"Sitting in the shade of the Acropolis in Athens and looking up at the Parthenon while reading it, the book made complete sense of the way ancient Greek artists communicated in a layperson's language....[The Parthenon Code] is in a rare class of literature that can be classified as the beaconing light to understand humanity." - New Europe/The European Weekly.

"One of the most original, engaging, thoughtful, and thought-provoking works....an iconoclastic, mind-stimulating, and strongly recommended read." - The Midwest Book Review.

"The most original book of the decade, if not the last fifty years." - Ron Pramschufer, BooksJustBooks.com.

"This is the book the thinking Christian community has been waiting for." - Ian T. Taylor, Creation Moments.

We Want to Live

by Aajonus Vonderplanitz

ISBN 1-889356-77-8. Hardbound. Two volumes in one book (Vol. 1: Out of the Grips of Disease and Death; Vol. 2: Healthfully (the Facts)). 310 pp. January 1997. Carnelian Bay Castle Press. $29.95.

A few months after Aajonus Vonderplanitz's 21st birthday, he was diagnosed with terminal blood and bone cancer and given less than one year to live. Now, 35 years later, in his humble narrative We Want to Live Aajonus takes us on his fascinating personal journey, along with those of his son and patients, on their roads from near-death to vibrant health. He forges the path for us and leads us with courage, compassion and conviction; it's as if we were living this journey right along with him.

Coming from a man who has faced death so many times and in so many ways, We Want to Live addresses with authority the personal dilemmas that plague us all regarding what really works dietarily, what usually doesn't, and why. During one period of his journey, bicycling the North American continent searching for and exploring primitive remedies, the author was befriended by a den of coyotes who showed him the missing link in his diet. The incredible stories pile up, eliciting expressions of disbelief and even the occasional guffaw, but ultimately Aajonus Vonderplanitz's New Age sensibilities, realistic tone and analytical frame of mind bring it all back down to earth and we know that it is all true—fantastically and exhilaratingly true. Once, Aajonus worked as the dietitian in an ashram and, to make a point about the powerful influence of diet revved up the yogis' tabooed desires of the flesh by feeding them a special combination of common foods. We Want to Live is unquestionably the mother of all testimonials.

We Want to Live consists of two volumes in one book. Volume One is the testimonial. Volume Two explains everything we need to know about diet so that we can live without disease, fear of disease, and the physical, mental, emotional and spiritual bankruptcy that results from disease. Aajonus gives us remedies for hundreds of ailments and diseases, tips about particular foods (both good and bad for us, generally), and even a few beauty tips that speed us toward looking younger and more vibrant.

As both inspirational work and factual text, We Want to Live offers real substance for hope and a path to health, vitality and peace of body and mind. It's a gift of life, for friends and loved ones, including ourselves, that we will refer to again and again.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Aajonus Vonderplanitz is a scientist, nutritionist, speaker and writer who works in Malibu, CA. His patients' rate of disease reversal, including cancer and heart disease, is astoundingly high.

Future Prospects of the World According to the Bible Code

By Joseph Noah

ISBN 1-8921380-7-7. Paperback. Illustrated with 61 Matrix Slides. 208 pp. February 2002. New Paradigm. $16.95.

From the Foreword: "On the morning of the 11th of September, 2001, the world changed with the destruction of the World Trade Center in New York. President Bush described it as the beginning of a long struggle between good and evil. He was right. According to the Bible Code, it was the start of a ten-and-a-half-year countdown, the time and half time as prophesied in Daniel 12 of the Old Testament and also described in the last book of the New Testament, The Revelation to John."

Using the Bible Code, Joseph Noah searched Daniel and Revelation and uncovered grim prospects for our future: H-bomb wars between East and West, asteroid strikes, plagues, a 20-degree pole shift, a generation of still-born babies, and much more. He places these prophecies, which he calls only "prospects," in the context of previously unknown Bible Code predictions that have come true. The author leads us through a sweeping historical analysis that includes both the known and unknown history of mankind (among the latter: the story of the ever-reincarnating angelic forces that guide our destinies). Noah insists that through acts of goodness we can change our future, and reveals the glowing vistas of peace and prosperity that await mankind—if we can only grow up.

"A lot of significant new details have been discovered in this book, particularly for the period 2010-2012." - EXODUS 2006 Web Site <<http://exodus2006.com/codes2.htm>>.

"Its depth and focus are intense and eye opening...For those of you that are into religious theology, this is a must read, and would make a wonderful addition to your spiritual library." - Ann Findley, PAATHways Magazine, May-June 2003.

"This is a scary book in many ways, for it sets out to establish further findings in the Bible Code index. It is also a guide to survival, and for the readers of paranormal writings it will prove interesting reading." - Lee Prosser, Ghostvillage, Sept. 4, 2003.

Joseph Noah was interviewed by actress/author Shirley MacLaine, on May 19 & June 2, 2002, on her Independent Expression Radio Program at <<http://www.shirleymaclaine.com>>, and by George Noory, on Nov. 10, 2003, on the COAST TO COAST AM Radio Show (formerly The Art Bell Show) <<http://www.coasttocoastam.com>>. ISBN 1-894263-90-1. Paperback. 174 pp. September 2004. General Store Publishing House. $19.95 CAD.

First the website, and now the book! Judith Campbell leaves no stone unturned in her quest for wellness. Her goal: the balancing of body, mind, and spirit, achieved by the transformation of the negative energies that drain us into the positive energies that nourish us. Bring the body into balance with proper food choices and preparation; bring the mind into balance by stress reduction and meditation; bring the spirit into the equation by communing with nature; and bring all three into balance by becoming aware of their interdependent relationship. These seem like simple enough ways to begin, and the rewards are magnificent: a new outlook on life, more energy, better relationships, peace, joy...It could take a little work! Judith Campbell has written this book to coach you through it. Once you've finished reading it, you can visit her website as often as you like for additional support and insights.

About the Author: Judith M. Campbell is a wellness facilitator and practitioner with 30 years' experience in community and occupational health nursing. She currently has a small private practice in Ottawa, Ontario and teaches part-time at her local community college. Her programs can be found on her website at www.energywellness.ca. Her nursing career spanned four provinces and led her into progressively more challenging, diverse, and responsible roles that drew deeply upon her creative, visionary and developmental talents. Her passion for body, mind, and spirit wellness and wholeness has become the focus of her teaching and writing since she retired from Corporate Occupation Health & Safety in 1996. Judith believes the future of preventive health care includes a coordinated approach using both the medical profession and the healing art therapies. Such an approach would blend the technological advances of modern medicine with an understanding of the interdependent relationship of health, and the body, mind, and spirit. The achievement of this coordinated approach would help reduce the incidence of personal illness and injury and restore individuals to healthy living. As well, within the workplace, organizations would benefit through reduced employee absenteeism and an earlier return to work.

Basic Skills for the New Arbitrator

(2nd Edition)

By Allan H. Goodman

ISBN 0967097320. Paperback. 116 pp. May 2004. Solomon Publications. $25.00.

Basic Skills for the New Mediator

(2nd Edition)

By Allan H. Goodman

ISBN 0967097339. Paperback. 110 pp. September 2004. Solomon Publications. $25.00.

Alternate dispute resolution techniques have developed to resolve disputes without resorting to the traditional method of litigation in court. The two main alternative dispute resolution techniques are mediation and arbitration. In mediation, a person is chosen to facilitate the settlement of the dispute. While this person does not have authority to bind the parties, he or she must have specific skills to guide the parties to a settlement. In arbitration, a person with specific expertise in the subject matter of the dispute is chosen to act as a private judge and render a binding decision.

There is an increasing demand for trained mediators and arbitrators who come from a wide variety of professions—lawyers, family counselors, psychologists, human resource managers, academicians, construction contractors, real estate professionals, and others.

Basic Skills for the New Mediator and Basic Skills for the New Arbitrator, by Allan H. Goodman, are widely used for self-instruction and as training texts by private trainers and instructors. Colleges and universities also use these books as textbooks on the undergraduate and graduate level in courses dealing with mediation, arbitration, conflict management, alternative dispute resolution, employee management, human resources, and related topics.

These books are a must for new practitioners! Experienced mediators and arbitrators will also find many useful suggestions for improving their skills. Written in question-and-answer format, they answer the one hundred questions most frequently asked by new mediators and arbitrators with clear, concise, and practical “hands-on” suggestions. Guidance is provided for the non-attorney mediator and arbitrator. Attorneys who represent clients in arbitration and mediation will also benefit from the insight into these processes which these books offer.

Both books are authored by Allan H. Goodman, an experienced arbitrator and mediator, adjunct professor at the Georgetown University Law Center and a judge on the U.S. General Services Administration Board of Contract Appeals. He lectures frequently on alternative dispute resolution and has conducted training sessions for the American Arbitration Association.

“Easy to carry, read, and follow. They are exactly what a new mediator/ arbitrator needs to learn the ropes and what an experienced mediator/ arbitrator needs as a refresher.” - The Construction Lawyer, Summer 2002.

“These books provide a valuable resource to read, keep, and consult on the questions that arise in the day-to-day life of an arbitrator or mediator....Basic Skills for the New Mediator and Basic Skills for the New Arbitrator provide a no-nonsense resource which will be valuable to an arbitrator or mediator long after he or she is ‘new.’” - Online Journal of Peace and Conflict Resolution, May 1999.

Basic Skills for the New Mediator provides an overview of the entire process, from the premeditation conference through all stages of the mediation session. The new mediator will learn to establish his or her authority as a mediator, schedule the mediation session, deliver the mediator’s opening statement, prioritize issues, preside during joint sessions and private caucuses, overcome impasses in settlement discussions, identify “hidden agenda” and “throw-away” items, deal with parties who lack settlement authority, and achieve a viable settlement. The Appendix “Everything You Never wanted to know About the Rules of Evidence” is especially valuable for the non-attorney mediator, who must often deal with the evidentiary vocabulary of the legal profession.

Basic Skills for the New Arbitrator begins with a discussion of how and why parties decide to arbitrate, the appointment of the arbitrator, and the arbitrator’s duty of disclosure. The new arbitrator will learn to conduct a preliminary conference, issue prehearing orders, establish a discovery schedule, resolve discovery disputes, deal with attempted delays, preside at an arbitration hearing, render the award, and avoid prejudicial conduct during the hearing and after the award.

The Song That Never Ended A Jazz Musician's Journey to a Love Beyond Life By John Novello

ISBN 1-8921380-9-3. Paperback. Illustrated. 260 pp. June 2003. New Paradigm Books. $16.95.

Jazz musician John Novello tells the story of how he lost his jazz singer wife to cancer, celebrated her life at a music-filled public life tribute, and found that she had never left him. His story unfolds against the glittering backdrop of the Los Angeles jazz scene of the 1980's-1990's. Through its pages stream a dazzling group of rock greats including Stevie Wonder, Billy Sheehan, Donna Summer, Chick Corea, Ritchie Cole, Manhattan Transfer, A Taste of Honey, and many more. Hammond B3 organist/composer John Novello (also the author of The Contemporary Keyboardist) and virtuoso vocalist Gloria Rusch form a part of this multi-textured tapestry. But place and time take a back seat to the post-life "interdimensional" communications between John and his deceased wife Gloria; these form the glowing center of this wonderfully moving book. The Song That Never Ended will give heart to all those who have never ceased to mourn a loved one.

"This is not only a truly fascinating and well-written book, but a valuable contribution to the evidential literature about the Afterlife." - Prof. Dr. Hans Holzer, parapsychologist and author of 126 books including Ghosts and Life Beyond Life.

"Of the afterlife contacts with his wife, Gloria, the evidence presented supports John's conclusion that she is still by his side. I recommend this book to all who have lost a loved one." - Donald R. Morse, D.D.S., Ph.D., The Journal of Religion and Psychical Research, Vol. 26, No. 4, October 2003.

"A profoundly spiritual accounting...a highly recommended addition to New Age spirituality and metaphysical studies reading lists, as well as of immense interest to John Novello fans." - Midwest Review, July 2003.

"My courses on life after death generally produce positive effects. Mr. Novello's book likewise provides similar support for its readers, although on experiential not empirical grounds, and for that reason is valuable." - Arthur Berger, International Institute for the Study of Death, Aventura, FL.

"What makes this book work so well is its blunt honesty and approach to dying, and how it was for Gloria fighting breast cancer and her husband John trying to discover an alternative cure to save her life. There is much sadness and much joy in this book." - Lee Prosser, Ghostvillage, 2003.

CONVERSATIONS WITH ETERNITY

The Forgotten Masterpiece of Victor Hugo

Translated with a commentary by John Chambers, with an introduction by Martin Ebon

ISBN 1892138018. Paperback. Illustrated. 262 pp. November 1998. New Paradigm Books. $13.95.

"Compared to the soul-destroying banality of most séance texts, the Marine Terrace corpus is a literary masterpiece, the unconscious product of a naturally dramatic mind" (Graham Robb, Victor Hugo: A Biography, 1997). From August 1853 to December 1855, while in political exile at Marine Terrace, his home on the Channel island of Jersey, the famed author of Les Misérables participated in numerous "table-tapping" séances.

At least 115 "spirits" communicated with him, his family and fellow political exiles. The group of alleged discarnate entities included the illustrious dead such as Shakespeare, Plato and Galileo; legendary animals like Balaam's Ass and the Lion of Androcles; entities who claimed to have never been alive, like the Shadow of the Sepulcher and Death; a series of abstract concepts with names like 'India,' 'Metempsychosis,' and 'Ocean;' and aliens from the planets Mercury and Jupiter. The first translation into English ever of the most important of the transcripts of these séances, with an introduction by Martin Ebon setting Hugo's channeling experience in its historical context. Were the séance texts really only "the unconscious product of a naturally dramatic mind?" The answer is not simple; in attempting to discover it, Conversations with Eternity takes the reader into the heart of one of the greatest--and least-known--mysteries of all time.

"Quite a surprise, quite a delight." - The Anomalist (Best Books of 1998)

"This is a total adventure, and I would have given my eye-teeth to be there." - NAPRA Review

"Strangely alive, pregnant with a timely spiritual urgency." - Fate

"Does fascinate and challenge the reader." - Journal of Religion and Psychical Research

"Challenging, memorable, poetic utterances abound." - Foreword

"The best book on channeling in years." - Fortean Times

The Ancient Museum of Dream: Discoveries of a Dream-Artist

By Clyde Anthony and Carolyn Frances

ISBN 1-4184340-0-0. Paperback. Illustrated. 241 pp. June 2004. Authorhouse. $17.50.

This book is a collection of works, of discoveries, gleaned from Clyde Anthony's dreams and visions. It is more than that: Through Carolyn Frances, it is a communication with a consciousness that comes directly from the realm of dreams and visions, a conscious awareness that proclaims the power of these dreams and visions and bears witness to their place in human history. This conscious awareness also testifies to the worth of those communications in the human search for meaning—a search that is borne on the shoulders of the abilities of individual persons but derives its strength from that species that we call Human.

The Ancient Museum of Dream: Discoveries of a Dream-Artist is an affirmation of that search, a testimony to the fertility of humankind's inner life and consciousness which, though it may be fueled by beliefs, is found in life's fecund ground of being itself and springs directly from that great source of being.

No other book goes as deeply into this direct experience, which is the very dance of Earth itself, the apprehension of life's power at its very source. One of the many communications:

"Past on memory-sky, seed of Creature Universe moving the black winds of centuries to come. Oh creature, Human, great gifts you bear on the vastness of time. Together, Earth- and Human sings the life, proclaiming its destined desires, dancing through space, hungry for the knowledge-truth, who are we. We come together to light the spark in the dark hours of time."

About the Authors: Clyde Anthony and Carolyn Frances view their dreams as dwelling somewhere between fiction and non-fiction, fusing both perspectives creatively. Therefore, their book is not fiction but a partial account of their creative life-pursuit. It is a collection of works, including discoveries gained through Clyde Anthony's dreams and visions. His vision work is from a uniquely individual perspective. He follows no pathway of beliefs, instead listening to his body's energies and gauging their role in his vision experiences. He seeks out the inner wisdom of those vision experiences both as ancestral language and as new creations, all the while searching through the states of waking, sleeping and all gradations in-between—in both the ancient past and the future—to meld together this unique human triad of creative awareness.

"Many thanks for The Ancient Museum of Dream, a most original title for a most unusual book. There are enough ideas, feelings, quotes, insights and just remarkable perceptions, in many creative ways, to keep me intrigued for a long time indeed. Beautifully put together, with evocative illustrations that show their own unique truths." - Robert F. Butts, co-creator, the Seth books.

"Their journey through the dream-world shows the reader the importance of such travels. The many issues they touch upon reveal the universal questions of beingness. I loved it." - Kim Burgess, Ph.D., anthropologist.

ETERNAL TREBLINKA

Our Treatment of Animals and the Holocaust

By Charles Patterson

ISBN 1930051999. Paperback. 312 pp. March 2002. Lantern Books. $20.00.

The title of the book is from a short story by the Yiddish writer and Nobel Laureate Isaac Bashevis Singer (1904-91), to whom the book is dedicated: "In relation to them, all people are Nazis; for the animals it is an eternal Treblinka."

The book examines the origins of human supremacy, describes the emergence of industrialized slaughter of both animals and people in modern times, and concludes with profiles of Jewish and German animal advocates on both sides of the Holocaust, including Isaac Bashevis Singer himself.

About the Author: Charles Patterson, Ph.D., is the author of The Oxford 50th Anniversary Book of the United Nations, Anti-Semitism: The Road to the Holocaust and Beyond, The Civil Rights Movement, and From Buchenwald to Carnegie Hall (co-author). He lives in New York City.

"In Eternal Treblinka we are presented for the first time with extensive evidence of the profoundly troubling connections between animal exploitation in the United States and Hitler's Final Solution." - from the Foreword by Lucy Rosen Kaplan, Esq.

"Compelling, controversial, iconoclastic...strongly recommended...a unique contribution." - Midwest Book Review

"Charles Patterson's book will go a long way towards righting the terrible wrongs that human beings throughout history have perpetrated on non-human animals. I urge you to read Eternal Treblinka and think deeply about its important message." - Dr. Jane Goodall

"Eternal Treblinka should be on every list of essential reading for an informed citizenry...for the compelling comprehensiveness of the life-and-death story it tells." - National Jewish Post & Opinion

"There are good books...entertaining, useful, informative; great books...whose message reveals a fundamental truth previously unknown or overlooked; and important books...that can save lives and ameliorate suffering: Eternal Treblinka is all three." - Satya Magazine, New York City

"The moral challenge posed by Eternal Treblinka turns it into a must for anyone who seeks to delve into the universal lesson of the Holocaust." - Maariv (Israeli newspaper)

"Important and timely...written with great sensitivity and compassion. I hope that Eternal Treblinka will be widely read." - Martyrdom and Resistance (Holocaust publication)

"It is seldom that such a comprehensive work of scholarship springs from a heart of compassion in the service of a noble and necessary idea. All the ingredients of your thesis—that the oppression of animals serves as the model for all other forms of oppression—have been available to thinking people for generations, but it remained for you to pull them together." - Helen Weaver, author of The Daisy Sutra

"Powerful, moving, gut-wrenching, brilliant—destined to be a classic." - Aviva Cantor, journalist and author

"It grips like a thriller." - The Freethinker (UK)

Ladies and Gentlemen!

Daring to Live What the Soul Already Knows

By John J. Heney

ISBN 1-894263-81-2. Paperback. 144 pp. September 2004. General Store Publishing House. $19.95 CAD.

Can it be this simple? Can life be so uplifting? Can the relief we feel when we laugh with ourselves be this deep? The answer is a resounding "Yes!" Come and see what can happen in your own life when you discover in Ladies and Gentlemen! how others are daring to live what the soul already knows.

The success of his book The Thunder Within prompted John Heney to once again share his insights and humour, assisting people in enhancing their lives as he helps ensure that "common sense" becomes even more common! The result is a collection of diverse and true stories of people who have taken time out to reflect and bring new insight into their roles and dramas. It's a book that's turning around situations for all manner of travelers you'll meet on the road of life. Ladies and Gentlemen! brings you things to think about that can brighten a situation along, with simple exercises to help you incorporate inspiration into the world around you, no matter what role you play.

About the Author: Born in Montreal in 1956, John Heney lived in Toronto and Stratford, Ontario, before formal studies and subsequent involvements in journalism, public policy and international affairs. Struck down at 35 by cerebral palsy and the mysterious, sudden onset of a movement disorder called dystonia, he resolved to recover his functions. Concentrating on the personal quest he chronicles in The Thunder Within, he found himself being called upon, more and more, to coach others, and in ways and circumstances he could not have imagined in his wildest dreams. From this emerged his practice in—as one observer calls it—“whatever it takes to cause people to blossom and become the best that they can be.” It’s what John calls “spiritual mechanics.” He has spoken on his work before numerous audiences including a Conference Board of Canada-sponsored national gathering on Wellness in the Workplace, and a groundbreaking conference at the University of Toronto on Spirituality in Health Care. Through writing, coaching, teaching and public speaking, he demonstrates the power that creativity and common sense can have in our lives when we take the time to apply the awareness to let them flower. He and his wife Kathy live in Ottawa where John, rather than “cook,” frequently “creates with love” over the kitchen stove—often to the tune of 1920s fox trots (he also has a passion for antique gramophones and the early days of recording).

Money Is Love Reconnecting to the Sacred Origins of Money By Barbara Wilder

ISBN 0967334608. Paperback. 95 pp. September 1999. Wild Ox Press & Communications. $9.95.

War, poverty, hunger and crime are caused by the fear that surrounds money and its scarcity. Money is energy, and energy is limitless. Only our fear and our limited way of thinking make money seem scarce. Using the exercises described in this book, you can reconnect with the sacred origins of money, and direct the flow of money through your life and the world on a current of love, joy, goodwill and abundance. Money is energy, and according to quantum physics the universe is made up of energy, which becomes matter only when information is focused on it. Wood is wood and not iron because of the information that forms the two different kinds of matter.

Too many of us labor under the belief that money is “a necessary evil,” which is, more often than not, difficult to obtain. By changing our feelings about money from fear, anger, greed and scarcity, to love, joy, abundance and goodwill, we can change the way money moves through our lives and the lives of others all over the world.

Now in its 4th printing, Money Is Love teaches that as we begin to remove the negative thoughts and feelings that surround money and redefine money as love, we bring the power of love into all of our monetary transactions. This in turn opens our hearts to allow money to flow abundantly into our lives, creating a place of peace and joy. From this place of harmony we can send money back out into the world on a flow of love and gratitude.

Money healed can begin to heal all that it touches. And because money flows like blood through the planet, diseased it causes disease, but infused with love it creates healthy new life.

“A searchlight into the dark mystery of wealth, Money Is Love illuminates unexamined terrain. Seekers of balance in this material life, start here to remember the true power in your cash flow. A challenging and fun way to change your mind about money.”- D. Robertson, CEO, Ashoka Credit Union.

“Barbara has created a simple, hands-on approach to cleaning up our relationship to money on both a personal and global scale. This book provides useful truths from history, healing techniques, and a clear vision that can shift our perceptions about money from fear and greed to love and goodwill. Money Is Love is a great place to start in bringing greater abundance to our pocketbooks and a little peace of mind to our souls.” - Tim Clauss, co-author of Chicken Soup of the Soul at Work.

Spiritual Enlightenment: The Damnedest Thing

By Jed McKenna

ISBN 0-9714352-3-5. Paperback. 296 pp. December 2002. Wisefool Press. $21.95.

AUTHOR, TEACHER and SPIRITUAL MASTER Jed McKenna tells it like it's never been told before. A true American original, Jed succeeds where countless others have failed by reducing this highest of attainments—spiritual enlightenment—to the simplest of terms.

Effectively demystifying the mystical, Jed astonishes the reader not by adding to the world's collected spiritual wisdom, but by taking the spirituality out of spiritual enlightenment. Never before has this elusive topic been treated in so engaging and accessible a manner.

A masterpiece of illuminative writing, Spiritual Enlightenment is mandatory reading for anyone following a spiritual path. Part exposé and part how-to manual, this is the first book to explain why failure seems to be the rule in the search for enlightenment—and how the rule can be broken.

"Absolutely marvelous, splendid, perfect book!" - Acharyaji Anatole, Abhidhyan Yoga Institute

"McKenna is an American original, and his delightful Spiritual Enlightenment is just what's needed to wake us up from slumber." - Lama Surya Das, author, Awakening the Buddha Within

"Jed McKenna's description of life after enlightenment is so good that 99.9% of his readers might not understand how truly profound it really is....This is the least mystical book about enlightenment imaginable and that is its greatest feat." - Satyam Nadeen, author, From Onions to Pearls, From Seekers to Finders

"I loved Jed's book. I stayed up past midnight reading it. I recommend it because it goes to the root. It demands everything, it relentlessly urges you further, and best of all, if you fall into distracting yourself by trying to make something out of Jed, there's truly nobody there! You are left with the simple question: what is true? For those who are ready to give up everything and find nothing, this unique and unconventional book is a multi-layered journey behind the veils, pointing you straight into the void." - Joan Tollifson, author, Bare-Bones Meditation: Waking Up from the Story of My Life

Spiritually Incorrect Enlightenment

By Jed McKenna

ISBN 0-9714352-5-1. Paperback. 320 pp. March 2004. Wisefool Press. $21.95.

THE MARK OF A TRUE MASTER is that he can express a subject of the utmost complexity with uncanny simplicity. Jed McKenna is such a master, and spiritual enlightenment is his subject.

His first book, Spiritual Enlightenment: The Damnedest Thing, was an instant classic and established him as a spiritual teacher of startling depth and clarity. Now, his second book, Spiritually Incorrect Enlightenment, takes us on a fascinating tour of the enlightened state—what it is and what it's not, who's there and who's not, how to get there and how to get somewhere better.

Delightful surprises abound, including the dramatic unveiling of perhaps the greatest spiritual masterpiece of all time—long hidden in plain view and well known to all. Whitman, Melville, Thoreau, Mark Twain and U.G. Krishnamurti all appear, and a student from the first book returns to share her Spiritual Autolysis journals. Also surprising are the author's gentle efforts to guide the reader away from enlightenment toward a more desirable and accessible state.

*Failing to fetch me at first, keep encouraged,
Missing me one place, search another,
I stop somewhere, waiting for you.*
- Walt Whitman

Jed McKenna's books aren't for everyone. They're for people who are tired of the spiritual merry-go-round and ready to confront the unadorned reality of the awakening process. If you like your teachers with all the spiritual trimmings and trappings, Jed may not be right for you, but when you're ready to jump off the merry-go-round and begin your journey, Jed McKenna is the guy you want to see standing there—waiting for you.

"Brilliant!!! Jed hits another one out of the park!" - Orva T. Schrock

"If you are ready, step into Jed's world. It is intelligent and powerful." - Jerry Katz, Nonduality Salon

"A powerful and unmerciful document that clearly and consistently lays out the truth." - Nordattack

Who You Are and Why You Are Here By Ruth Mierswa

ISBN 0-9661080-0-0. Paperback. 311 pp. Index. 1998. Rainbow Gateway Books. $16.00.

So many people are hurting! They are suffering from intense anger! They don't understand why they have had difficult experiences. They want to know, "Why me? Why did this happen to me?" This book gives answers by a clear explanation of the Universal Laws of Reincarnation and Karma.

Who You Are and Why You Are Here is the result of Mierswa's long-time search for answers to why we are here on earth—what the purpose of life is. She studied psychology and post-graduate counseling and read all non-sectarian books she could find, yet received no help. Finally, when she contemplated Alice Bailey's 24 metaphysical books, the answers just flowed into her mind and heart, satisfying her to the depths of her soul.

She found that the only reason we are here on earth is for soul evolution. This is accomplished in two ways: (1) by transmuting weaknesses into strengths with the help of special insights and (2) by manifesting one's Life Purpose—that unique way in which no one else can help others as well as each of us can. This book helps the reader with both.

As soul evolution takes place, better health follows. Psychologists say that to attain good health, people must find and manifest their unique Life Purpose, but they have no tools to find it. This book has the tools! Mierswa developed a system for finding one's Life Purpose and Personality Type, and validating it by showing in this book how the Life Purposes of 226 successful people found by this system coincide with the contributions of each, and by six studies and four bar graphs.

More on this book, including the last chapter of Who You Are and Why You Are Here, along with author Ruth Mierswa's biography, some great feedback from reviewers and readers, and a great deal else, can be found on Mierswa's Web Site at: <LifePurpose.tripod.com>. Some feedback follows:

Claire Evans, England, wrote that she had been searching years for answers to spiritual questions and read more than 100 spiritual books and attended 12 spiritual workshops, but received no help, yet found answers to all her questions in this book.

"This book has changed my life. I spent over a year filling out personality questionnaires and assessments, but couldn't find my Life Purpose. I even tried hypnosis and numerology with no success, but your book did indeed describe my Life Purpose."—L. Duku, Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

"My life has turned completely around from the information in this book. In the past, I was so frustrated that I felt I could not go on any longer, but now am happier than ever and am uplifting others the way I was helped."—Irene Bouchard, Naples, N.Y.

"Brilliant! A must-read!"—Richard Fuller, Metaphysical Review.

"In Who You Are and Why You Are Here, Ruth Mierswa focuses on the question of finding our Life Purpose and Personality Type. Along the way she explains Reincarnation and Karma, and their roles in understanding how we create our own reality. This book also explains how to be unhurt by those who wrong us, how to rid ourselves of anger and guilt, how everything happens for our ultimate good, why difficult experiences are blessings in disguise, how to accept and love ourselves and every one else, why only some people are born with talent, good health or superior intellect, why people who have nervous breakdowns are often very highly evolved. Mierswa also offers a quiz for identifying our level of evolution, guidance to evolving higher, and a fascinating account of her skeptical scientist husband coming to accept her spiritual perceptions."—The Midwest Book Review.

"The questions 'Who am I? Why am I here?' have crossed everyone's mind at least once. Mierswa's beneficial system opens a whole new world to spiritually guide you to answers. She has combined astrology, common sense, spirituality and psychology as her foundation. She guides your soul on an evolutionary journey and leaves you feeling eternally aware and satisfied with life."—Magical Blend magazine.

"Your book provides a valuable resource for people searching for a means of viewing the holistic value of their lives. It is one of those rare books that gives meaningful insight into Life's Purpose."—Presidential Candidate Dr. John Hagelin, Fairfield, Iowa.

"New and profound level of personal understanding. Beautifully opens the windows of the soul. If you want to grow in love, live more your unique authentic self, this book is a gem." - Stephen Rogers, Auburn, CA.

In Search of the Unitive Vision

Letters of Sri Madhava Ashish to an American Businessman, 1978-1997

Compiled with a Commentary
by Seymour B. Ginsburg

ISBN 1-892138-05-0. Paperback. Illustrated. 304 pp. New Paradigm Books. 2001. $19.95.

"If you want to pursue in a Western way the path that we follow here at Mirtola, you need to study and work with the Gurdjieffian teaching."

Thus did the guru Madhava Ashish, at their first meeting, invite American businessman Sy Ginsburg on a spiritual journey that would last 19 years (until the guru's death) and include both a lengthy correspondence and annual visits to Sri Madhava Ashish's Mirtola ashram, near Almora, in India's Himalayan foothills. Along the way, the entrepreneur/author would be caught up in not only the teachings of G.I. Gurdjieff, but also the search for the elusive unitive vision—the world viewed from the perspective of the greater Self and not the personality.

"The last English saint...came to India to repair spitfires, stayed to tame the inner fire." - This Week of India

"Ginsburg is able to create an atmosphere of the palpable presence of the master by providing quotations from his letters and articles." - Jagdish C. Nautiyal, Ph.D., Professor Emeritus, University of Toronto

"Carries an esoteric sense of that legominism which is characteristic of Gurdjieff's own writing." - The Mountain Path, Ramana Maharshi Ashram

"[Ashish's] responses, always full of insight and sometimes wry humour, throw an impartial light on theosophy, the Gurdjieff Work and Indian spirituality." - Ravi Ravindra, Chair, Comp. Rel. Dept., Dalhousie University.

New Daughters of the Oracle The Return of Female Prophetic Power in Our Time By Virginia Adair

ISBN: 1-892138-03-4. Paper. 6" x 9" Illustrated. 240 pp. June 2001. New Paradigm Books. $16.95.

In the mid-1990s, Virginia Adair traveled the world over, interviewing 43 female psychics and healers chosen randomly in 15 countries on four continents. Among the "new daughters of the oracle" she encountered were:

- Glennie Scott, of London, England, whose healing of Barrie Stonehill's poorly-functioning bowel meant that, over 20 years later, he still had not had to use his colon;
- Elvia Chaquinga Zurita, of Mexico City, who heals people's mental and physical ailments by telekinetically transmitting their negative energy into the whites of eggs;
- Greta Woodrew, of Waynesville, N.C., who in minutes cured ballerina Virginia Rich Barnett of a knee injury so severe doctors told her she would never even exercise again, let alone dance. At age 55, this associate director of Atlanta's Carl Radcliffe Dance Group was still dancing;
- Daphne Possee, of Kent, England, who foresaw the Zeebrugge, Belgium, ferry disaster, and the Pan-Am Lockerbie air disaster, and foretold the beginning and end dates of the 1991 Desert War against Saddam Hussein;
- Sema Oztemir, of Istanbul, Turkey, who foretold the emergency heart surgery of her country's Prime Minister;
- Joy Herald, of Newark, N.J., who used her psychometric powers—the ability to sense the identity of all those who have ever touched an object—to solve an unsolvable murder case;
- And thirty-seven more.

"The threads of commonality speak volumes about the possibilities for humanity's future and the raising of feminine energies in the 21st century."
- Michael Peter Langevin, Magical Blend, Issue 82, November, 2002.

"An eye opener to the reality of the phenomena." -Hans Holzer, Ph.D, author of 126 books including Ghosts and Life Beyond Life.
